COURSE DESCRIPTION
This popular series will offer a practical yet comprehensive overview of the clinical use of medications with emphasis on new drug therapies. Attendees will finish this series with a greater breadth of understanding of pharmacologic treatment in today’s health care setting. This series will follow a 6-week program of study. The sessions are offered on Wednesday evenings from 5:30-8:30 pm in Gadbois Hall. Check-in time and coffee at 5:00 pm.

This program has been specifically designed for nurses in advanced practice; however, any nurse who is looking to update his/her knowledge in pharmacology will benefit from this series.
