8:00 AM – 9:15 AM PLENARY 4: Enhancing Crisis Leadership in Public Health Emergencies..... Tener Goodwin Veenema
Strong leadership is critical in disaster and public health emergency situations when the demand for care challenges a health care facility’s capacity to respond and normally acceptable patterns of care are disrupted. Despite the critical nature of these events, health care providers receive relatively little education or training regarding crisis leadership and decision-making during disaster and major public health emergency events. This presentation will provide an overview of the current evidence on crisis leadership and strategies for building leadership in the health care workforce.

SESSION D: Emerging Infectious Diseases Meghan A. May

11:10 AM – 12:25 PM PLENARY 5: Realistic Expectations: Where Public Health and Primary Care Come Together Mary Ann Cooney
Much has been written about how public health and health care integration is essential to improving population health, however, developing partnerships is often hard work. The participants will learn importance of promoting and establishing these relationships.

12:30 – 1:30 PM Lunch (Provided)

1:30 – 2:45 PM PLENARY 6: Walking in Grace and Balance..... Vareen O’Keefe-Domaleski
Public health providers can be put face-to-face with challenging and sometimes traumatic human situations. How can we engage in mutual support, healing dialogues and compassion toward one another in order to reconnect with one’s commitment to caring for those in need?

2:45 – 3:00 PM Evaluations and Departures
